BUDGET

Think of these as your “fixed expenses.” The less you are required to spend on these essentials, the more money you’ll have left over for the fun stuff.

What are you planning to do on your vacation? Budget for your activities and entertainment, too! Be conservative with your financial plans. Now that you’re prepared, we’ve created a budget worksheet to help you plan smarter and make the most of your travels without overspending.

TRANSPORTATION

When planning a vacation, two significant expenses can quickly add up—transportation being one of them, especially when flying. But here’s the good news: flying can be both a time-saver and a money-saver, especially for solo travelers. With Club Viago’s exclusive discounts on flights and car rentals, you have the power to choose the most cost-effective and convenient way to travel. Long road trips often mean extra hotel stays, adding unexpected costs. By weighing your options wisely, you can take control of your travel budget and make every dollar count!

In other cases, especially if you have a large family, driving is one way to save money on your vacation. You might think that traveling by car limits your vacation choices, but there are many places to see and more choices than you probably realize.

Perhaps you’ll drive 100 miles daily, which takes only 90 minutes. Over a week, you can stop and see many different sites.

Calculate the cost per mile to operate your automobile:

1. How many miles per gallon does your vehicle get? Hopefully, you already have this information, but if not, don't worry—our budget worksheet can guide you through it. You can track your mileage by filling up the tank, noting how many miles you travel before the next fill-up, or simply looking it up online or in your owner's manual. Every bit of data you gather will help you plan a more cost-effective trip!
2. Divide the gasoline cost by the miles per gallon. The result is your cost per gallon.
3. Use this number to determine the gasoline costs for your trip. Increasing or decreasing the length of your driving trip will quickly influence the price and budget.

LODGING

One of the most significant expenses during any vacation is lodging. While 5-star hotels can be tempting, overspending on accommodations can limit your overall experience. Instead of breaking your budget, you can enjoy luxury and comfort at a fraction of the cost by making wise choices.

Consider these mountain destinations:

1. Gatlinburg, Tennessee: This is an excellent place if you love the mountains but want to have many touristy things to do. Gatlinburg is renowned for its shopping. If you're unable to buy it there, you probably won't find it anywhere.

- »» Gatlinburg has excellent access to hundreds of miles of trout streams. If you love to fish, it's a great destination.
- »» Clingman's Dome is the highest point in the Smokey Mountain National Park at 6,643 feet. There are numerous hiking trails available. Mountain biking is also popular there.
- »» If you love amusement parks, Dollywood is just 10 miles away, making it a convenient and exciting destination!
- »» There's an endless variety of lodging options, from primitive to luxurious, to fit any budget.

2. Estes Park, Colorado: Home to the Rocky Mountain National Park, Estes Park is a great location for those that love mountains. It's one of the most scenic places in the United States. Many lodging opportunities exist, from camping and cabins to deluxe home rentals.

» You won't find a better place for outdoor activities. Some of the best hiking, rock climbing, and white water rafting can be found in Estes Park.

» It's also an excellent place for viewing wildlife. It's well known for the many bighorn sheep that roam the area.

3. Mammoth Lakes, California: Located in the Sierra Nevada Mountains, a short drive from Yosemite, Mammoth Lakes offers various outdoor and scenic activities.

» There is ample opportunity for fishing, hiking, camping, and mountain biking. Mammoth Lakes is also one of the best places in the country for horseback riding. Rock climbing and zip lining are other popular activities.

» The largest unrestored ghost town in the U.S. is also nearby in Bodie State Historical Park.

» A wide range of accommodations is available, from scenic campgrounds to luxurious vacation rentals offering premium amenities.

The Lake

It's hard to beat the lake for casual and relaxing outdoor fun. Lakes tend to be less crowded than beaches. Depending on your chosen lake, you can also see the mountains on your vacation.

1. Crater Lake, Oregon: A crater lake forms inside a volcano. At 1,943 feet deep, it is the deepest lake in the United States. The water is icy and famous for its blue color.

- »» Hiking, fishing, and bicycling are very popular warm-weather activities. Snowshoeing and cross-country skiing are popular in the winter.
- »» There are tour boats that cruise the lake several times per day. You need to be in shape just to get on the boat, though, because it's a 700 foot walk down to the dock and another 700 feet back up to the rim.
- »» Horseback riding, river rafting, and several museums can be found nearby.
- »» Cabins and hotels are available. Camping is limited to the summer and early fall.

2. Lake Champlain, New York: Lake Champlain is located in Northeastern New York State and it borders Vermont.

- »» Lake Champlain was pivotal in the American Revolution, the French and Indian Wars, and the War of 1812. Several forts, the most notable of which is Fort Ticonderoga, are available for tours.
- »» This lake is famous for its fishing, particularly its northern pike population. Boating and swimming are also popular activities.
- »» All lodging types are available, from camping to fancy accommodations.

3. Table Rock Lake, Missouri: This lake has everything, especially if you like the outdoors and country music. The area is loaded with options for live entertainment.

- » Located in southern Missouri and on the edge of Branson, Table Rock Lake hosts the annual 3-week Bluegrass and Barbecue Festival.
- » The area is also famous for catfishing, scuba diving, hiking, biking, and kayaking.
- » The Butterfly Palace and Rainforest Adventure are other prominent attractions. Go-karting and water parks are also available.

ROAD TRIPS

Another great idea is to combine multiple locations. After a few days at the beach, you can head to the city for a day or two. Before heading home, you could spend a few more days at the lake and rent a canoe.

Some people find spending a week in the same location boring. If your family wants more variety, consider dividing your vacation into multiple stops with different activities.

Keep the amount of driving under control. You should probably avoid spending half of your trip just driving and avoid spending a lot of money on gas.
